I am a student and front-end web developer based in Lagos. My best skills are HTML5, CSS3, SASS and React.js. I bring a lot of energy with me everywhere I go, I am always listening and learning at every opportunity. I am intentional about growth and I carry this over to every thing I do. I have a grit mindset and I believe that there is always room for improvement. These are some of the reasons why you should have me on your team
